WILSON PRAISES ADMINISTRATION

Secretary of Agriculture Talks at Rome, N. Y.

DEVELOPMENT OF COUNTRY

Cabinet Officer Credits It to the Republican Party—Intimates That Tariff Is Not to Blame for High Price of Food—People Should Give Attention to Transit of Products From the Farm to the Table.

Rome, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson was the chief speaker at a Republican meeting held here. In part he said:

"When the Republican party was organized there were no home markets for the products of the farm because a large percentage of the people were engaged in agriculture. It became evident that industries should be diversified. It cost too much to take our products to foreign countries and left but a small margin for the producers. The Republican party urged the building up of factories and shops so that we could have markets nearer by. The theory was that the manufacturer and his working people should have protection to the extent of the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad.

"The present administration has been doing things. The interstate commerce commission will do justice between the shipper and the carrier. The tariff has been modified. Any country discriminating will be discriminated against. Our goods will go on equal terms to other countries or the law will be used.

"The department of agriculture is in touch with all sections of the country. It has 3,000 specialists, making research into conditions which interest the farmer. A few years ago nearly all our rice was imported. Along the Gulf of Mexico we now raise the equivalent of all rice used in the United States. We import some, but we also export some. Along the Northern border states we make 500,000 tons of sugar from beets. Our last beet sugar crop was worth nearly $100,000,000. Adopt Democratic policies and put sugar on the free list and the growth of beets and making of sugar would stop.

Shipments of Citrus Fruits.

"From California 42,000 cars of citrus fruits were shipped East last year. Take off the duty and we will get the fruit from Mediterranean countries where cheap labor prevails.

"We are studying dry land farming. Already we have found a wheat from Northern Africa which will grow on our dry lands, and we are now getting about 60,000,000 bushels of wheat annually from that land. There is no reason why we should not raise all the wheat we want on those lands alone. Meat producing will follow.

"Food prices are dear and people are blaming the tariff for protecting food prices. Food cannot come from Europe. It is up to the people who buy farm products in the cities, towns and villages to look into their own affairs a little. The average profit put on meats last year by the retailers was 38 per cent. Is the farmer to blame? Is the tariff to blame? If people must use the telephone to order by, and goods are delivered from butchers and grocery stores at much greater expense than in the past, who is to blame? It would be well for people to give more attention to the transit of products from the farm to the table.

"But there is reason in some of the increases. Our country is growing fast. Nearly 1,000,000 people come to us from abroad every year, and perhaps as many more by natural increases. Most of the foreigners and many of the younger generations settle in towns. If a small percentage of the people of towns and villages would become producers and get the benefit of the high prices of products of the field the equilibrium would soon be established, and the high prices may contribute to this very end."

DIES AS RESULT OF A FALL

Young Iowa Farmer Victim of Peculiar Accident.

Dumont, Ia., Nov. 4.—A peculiar accident which caused the death of Charles Borman, Jr., aged twenty-six years, has puzzled the physicians who attended the young man. While returning from the field with a load of corn the wagon upset and Borman fell upon his face. The stubble of cornstalks entered his nose, cutting it and lacerating his chin. His nose continued to bleed and that evening he died a doctor.

He finally became completely paralyzed and continued to bleed from the nose. During the night he lapsed into unconsciousness and died. He was to have been married in three weeks.

Medal of Honor Soldier Dead.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 4.—Richard H. Cosgriff, aged sixty-six, died of typhoid fever. He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters, one of whom is Miss Lou Cosgriff, now court reporter at San Juan, Porto Rico. Richard Cosgriff was the only veteran of the Civil war in Wisconsin who held a "Medal of Honor," awarded him by congress for distinguished bravery on the field of battle.

SCORES PRESENT METHODS

Dr. James Talks to Educators of Minnesota.

St. Paul, Nov. 4.—Democracy and wealth going hand in hand—we are not democratic and we are not wealthy—these, together with a national policy of education, were declared by Dr. Edmund J. James, president of the University of Illinois, in an address before the Minnesota Educational association, to be necessary to the stability and continuance of our American civilization.

Included in his address was an arraignment of our present methods and scope of education. The speaker declared there must be a complete reorganization of our educational system, in which education should become a national, not merely a state or local function, even urging a national department of education co-ordinate with other cabinet positions.

Educational methods in this country, from grade schools to university, came in for severe criticism. J. N. Chapman, Jr., vice president of the Northwestern National bank, Minneapolis, agrees with a statement made some time ago by President Northrop that "the product of our present school system is an educated loafer."

Dr. F. A. Cotton, president of the La Crosse, Wis., normal school, said that public schools are almost hopelessly demoralized through the influence of politics and other "pulls."

Sharp fight and "bolt" was averted in high school council session by a motion to adjourn, after principals charged that superintendents were trying to dominate that body.

EXPERT TO VISIT LA CROSSE

Will Investigate Condition of Water Supply There.

La Crosse, Wis., Nov. 4.—As a result of the hearing before Commissioner Roemer of the state railroad commission, an expert will be sent to La Crosse by the commission to make a thorough investigation of the water proposition and submit his report to the commission to relieve the present condition with reference to the city water supply.

Commissioner Roemer's decision followed the announcement of a report by an expert for the commission which seemed to favor the river plan. The commission was petitioned to take evidence regarding the water supply in this city and it was announced after hearing that the city would be bound by what the expert who is to be sent here should recommend.

CLOSE AND DEAR.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is the difference between a close friend and a dear friend?

Pa—A close friend, my son, is one who will not lend you money, while a dear friend is one who borrows all your will stand for.—Chicago News.

FIREMAN KILLED.

Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 4.—An engine on Milwaukee passenger No. 806, running from Eureka to Roscoe, jumped the track near Hosmer, seven miles north of Roscoe. Clyde R. Shipley, aged twenty-three, a fireman, was thrown beneath the baggage car and instantly killed.

IOWA BANK ROBBED OF $4,000.

Bancroft, Ia., Nov. 4.—Robbers forced the vault of the Bank of Bancroft, secured $4,000 and escaped. There is no clue to the perpetrators, who are thought to be professionals.

GRAIN AND PROVISION PRICES

SECRETARY MEYER.

© 1910, by American Press Association.

WITHOUT GREAT EXPENSE

Naval Base Could Be Established at Guantanamo, Cuba.

Caimanara, Cuba, Nov. 4.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer is homeward bound after having completed a 1,000 mile tour of the Pacific and Gulf naval stations. He has decided that Guantanamo is the only commanding site as a naval base auxiliary base to the defense of the Panama canal. The bay is admirably adapted to all requirements, and a first class base could be established, he says, without great expense.

KIDNAPPER OF YOUNG GIRL STILL AT LARGE

Mexican Takes His Victim Into the Mountains.

Mexico City, Nov. 4.—Segundo Selvero, the Mexican kidnapper of sixteen-year-old Grace Rolph of Pender, Neb., has succeeded in eluding his pursuers and making his way with his victim into the mountains of Tamaulipas, according to word received from Dr. Rolph by Consul Miller at Tampico. Dr. Rolph at the head of a posse was close on the trail of the kidnapper and his companions.

Many persons had been encountered during the pursuit who had seen the girl in Selvero's possession. She was said to be in a pitiful plight, having been brutally mistreated.

Ambassador Wilson is in daily communication with the Mexican authorities, who assure him that no effort will be spared to rescue Miss Rolph and bring the outlaws to justice. New forces of rurales from Tamaulipas and Vera Cruz have been ordered to surround the district in which Selvero is said to be in hiding.

ON ALL FARMS IN THE STATE

Society of Equity Favors Compulsory Hail Insurance.

Carrington, N. D., Nov. 4.—Five legislative recommendations were made by the North Dakota union of the American Society of Equity, in session here, one of the most striking of which provides for compulsory hail insurance on all farms in the state through the levying of a tax for that purpose. This would place the state in the position of a hail insurance company on an extensive scale.

The union also endorsed the plan providing for the semi-annual payment of taxes, the Duls concurrent resolution providing for the establishment of terminal elevators and the Initiative and referendum, but passed resolutions condemning the Skulason concurrent resolution extending the terms of supreme court judges to ten years.

The following officers were elected: President, F. H. Squires, Kenmare; vice president, Charles U. Pierson, Casselton; secretary and treasurer, J. M. Anderson, Casselton; members of the directorate, A. W. Dittler of Velva, F. B. Wood of Deering, Albert Piper of Casselton and O. H. Olson of New Rockford.

Town Stirred by Girl's Story.

Kenmare, N. D., Nov. 4.—The recital of a revolting tale to her schoolteacher by the eleven-year-old adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McKoy of this city resulted in the arrest of the couple. Feeling in Kenmare runs high and the prisoners were hurried to Minot and lodged in the county jail to await trial in the district court, with bonds fixed at $5,000 each.

Snow in Pennsylvania.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 4.—Six inches of snow has fallen in this city and a depth of ten inches is reported from the mountains. Snow began falling throughout the Wyoming valley early in the afternoon and continued until night. The mountainsides surrounding this section are covered by a fall of more than six inches of snow.

AUTO RACERS RESPECT DEAD

Pay Silent Tribute to Memory of Al Livingstone.

LUCK IS AGAINST DAWSON

Shaft of His Machine Breaks When He Is Six Miles Ahead of His Nearest Rivals in the Hundred-Mile Race—At the Time of the Accident He Was Ahead of the Official American Record.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4.—A drama, new to American automobile racing, was enacted at the Atlanta speedway just before the start of the 100-mile race.

With the strains of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," floating from the grandstand band nine big racing cars lined up at the starting wires, their engines stilled, while their drivers with bared heads waited for the last prayer to be said in another part of the city at the funeral of Al Livingstone, who was to have started in the race, but who was killed in practice three days ago.

After the hymn there was a long silence, respected by all the thousands in the inclosure, while the drivers stared hard with tear dimmed eyes at the painted hoods of their machines.

Suddenly the band started a two-step, the racing engines coughed and Livingstone, the "king of the dirt track," had passed forever from speedway events. New speed kings were throwing the clutches into position and the big race was on.

Dawson Meets With Accident.

Joe Dawson, in a Marmon, jumped into the lead and held it for ninety-eight miles, when he was nearly two minutes ahead of the official American record for 100 miles for class "B" cars. Then a shaft broke and he stopped at the pits for repairs. Six miles behind were his nearest rivals, Golnow's Fal and Knight's Westcott car, which for over ninety miles had been running nose and nose, often with scarcely an arm's length separating them. Into the final lap these two ran still even, but in the last half mile Golnow pulled ahead and won by 100 yards from Knight. Dawson returned to the race just in time to take third place. Time of winner, 1:26:17.62.

Bob Burman, who was left at the post by a quarter of a mile in the ten-mile, free for all, got sizzling hot under the collar. He was started finally by a daring feat of his mechanician, Howard Hall. Burman's trouble was in stopping his engine dead by throwing on the high speed too quickly. Hall grabbed the cranking rod and, with the high speed still on, gave the engine its first turn. Burman, still visibly agitated, drove madly, passing every driver except Caleb Bragg in a flat in the first mile and a half. Bragg's engine worked badly and Burman won easily.

The races will continue two days more.

LAUGHTER PROVES FATAL

Aged Tailor's Hilarity Ends in Death.

Eagle, Wis., Nov. 4.—A newspaper article quoting Dr. Ross of the state university as declaring that the hobbie skirt would be followed by the nose ring and slit cheeks for women caused Edward Bessingham, aged seventy, a tailor, to laugh himself to death. Although physicians declared that death was due to heart failure the heart failure resulted from hearty laughter.

Tired from his day's labors Mr. Bessingham sat next to his wife before the huge coal stove and listened while she read him the news of the day, column after column, from a Milwaukee newspaper. The hobbie skirt story, however, brought on the fatal laughter.

NOVELTY PUBLISHER HELD

Accused of Using the Mails to Defraud.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—George B. Clows, head of the firm of George B. Clows company, publishers and dealers in novelties in this city, was arrested here to answer an indictment filed at Kansas City, Mo., charging that he used the mails to defraud.

Chief Cotelony stated that agents of the company operated in all large cities and that cases against several agents in St. Paul and St. Louis are now being investigated. The company is alleged to have made glittering promises to refund the money if unsatisfactory. This, the postal agents say, was not done.

Clows was held in $1,500 bail for a further hearing on Nov. 10.

Jesuits Expelled.

Lisbon, Nov. 4.—A party of Jesuits, the last of the members of the religious orders, have been expelled. They sailed for Holland.

Fight Films Seized.

Regina, Sask., Nov. 4.—While a crowded house was watching the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures, a squad of Royal Northwest Mounted police, fully armed, seized the films.

German Spas Enforce Tax.

Two German summer resorts, Wiesbaden and Baden-Baden, have ordained a general tax, according to which even tourists who do not use the waters must now pay if they extend their stay beyond two days.

MISS ELLEN TERRY.

HONOR FOR ELLEN TERRY

Distinguished Friends Present Her With Book of Welcome.

New York, Nov. 4.—President and Mrs. Taft, Mayor and Mrs. Gaynor, J. P. Morgan, E. H. Gary of the United States Steel corporation, William Dean Howells, the author, and some 200 other friends of Ellen Terry, united in surprising her with a "book of welcome" bound in gold and vellum and signed with their names.

Miss Terry arrived here from Chicago, and had no inkling of the presentation awaiting her. When she stepped to the platform of the Hudson theater to deliver her lecture on "Shakespeare's Heroines Triumphant," the audience rose and cheered for five minutes. Tears of gratitude came to Miss Terry's eyes, but she deferred any formal acknowledgment, and began on her lecture.

Miss Terry was dressed in white, and many in the audience said that she seemed in as good voice and to be as fresh and winsome as twenty years ago, although she is sixty-two years old.

ROOSEVELT WILL SPEAK IN IOWA

The Colonel Will Campaign for Charles Grik.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt spent a large part of his day in walking through a string of sleeping cars on the way from his stateroom to the rear platform or back again. He was on board a train which puffed its way across Ohio and Indiana in such a leisurely fashion and made so many stops that he exclaimed: "This train visits through the country."

Charles Grik, Republican candidate for congress, for whom Colonel Roosevelt is to speak in Iowa, met the colonel at the station and took him in an automobile to his special car on which he departed for Iowa an hour after his arrival here.

Colonel Roosevelt is to arrive at Davenport at 2:35 a. m. and will remain in his car until time for breakfast with the Tri-City Press club. Then the colonel will make a campaign speech for Mr. Grik. A committee from the Iowa state teachers' association is to meet him in Davenport. With the committee and Mr. Grik the colonel will leave for Des Moines, stopping on the way at several places for short speeches. In Des Moines he is to speak to the high school pupils; attend a dinner at the Grant club; address the state teachers' association and then make a speech for Mr. Grik. He will leave for Chicago at 1:04 a. m. Saturday.

STORY TELLING IS FATAL

Entertainer at Party Falls in Faint and Dies.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—While telling ghost stories at a party Mrs. E. P. Wager was suddenly stricken with apoplexy in the middle of a story and her death, as a result of the stroke, occurred here.

Mrs. Wager was amusing the guests with a number of weird tales and suddenly threw up her hands and fell to the floor. She was hurried to the hospital, but did not regain consciousness.

Shipments Heavy.

St. Paul, Nov. 4.—October receipts of live stock at South St. Paul show a decided increase throughout the lists amounting in the aggregate to 1,566 cars more for October, 1910, than for the corresponding month of 1909. The shipments have advanced to nearly the same figure, showing a balance in favor of this year of 1,382 cars.

Build Church in Twelve Hours.

Kansas City, Nov. 4.—On a lot that was vacant in the morning now stands the Swope Park Christian church, an edifice 50 by 60 feet. Members of the congregation constructed the building between the hours of 7:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. The last work was done by the light of lanterns.

INVESTIGATION NOT CONCLUDED

RUSSIAN'S UNIQUE PLAN TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING

Proposes to Ship Food to America From Siberia.

Nicolas Vassilievitch Morozoff, who owns 300 dairies and many packing houses in Siberia, vows he will try to reduce the cost of living in America by exporting his products here and will make money if he does. He is one of the largest suppliers of the European market, a former president of the budget committee of Moscow, his home, and a member of various municipal bodies in Russia. In a word, besides being a very wealthy business man, Mr. Morozoff is deeply interested in the political welfare of his native land, where he is a member of the radical wing of the Liberal party.

"The prices of food are extravagant, enormous," said Mr. Morozoff. "When I read in our newspapers that a bottle of milk costs 8 or 9 cents and that the price of an egg is often 4 cents I did not believe it. But I see it is a fact, and the people of New York should be ashamed that they pay such prices. It would not be so strange if high prices prevailed in Moscow, which is controlled by an autocratic government in which great corruption exists.

"But I am sure that, had as our government is, it would not permit the greed of a corporation to extort 9 cents for a bottle of milk.

"The regular price of a bottle of milk in Moscow is 4 cents; the price of an egg is never more than 1 1/2 cents.

"The cost of living here is higher than anywhere else in the world. I am certain I can supply the New York market with meat, butter, eggs and milk from Siberia at prices at least a third less than those prevailing now, and I would still have a handsome profit left.

"The people here have the power to control their corporations," Mr. Morozoff continued. "Why they hesitate to do so I cannot understand.

"If I were a New Yorker forced to pay such enormous prices for provisions and milk I would head a revolution."

THE KING WAS HUNGRY.

Pays Signal Woman Five Dollars For a Meal.

King Alfonso returned to his capital recently some time in advance of the queen and the rest of the royal family, having traveled by automobile from San Sebastian accompanied only by his equerry.

Soon after leaving Miranda, near the village of Oñon, the royal automobile crossed the railway leading to Madrid. The king felt hungry, and, stopping at the barrier, where an old signal woman lived, he asked her what she could give him to eat.

She answered that she had nothing but eggs, bread and some wine.

King Alfonso begged that she prepare a meal, which she did and which he majesty ate by the roadside.

Having satisfied his hunger, the king showed his appreciation of the luncheon by giving the woman the Spanish equivalent for $5.

She supposed she had been waiting upon two ordinary travelers, and great was her surprise, even consternation, on learning from her son, who had recognized him, that it was the king she had had the honor to entertain.

DOGS AS BRIDESMAIDS.

Three Animals From Mikado's Kennels at New York Wedding.

Instead of bridesmaids, Mrs. Mary Schley-Bowen was attended by her three beautiful dogs when she became the bride of Percy William Evans in New York recently.

Dressed in bewitching broadcloth suits, with handkerchiefs embroidered by the bride in their breast pockets, Otoy Kondo San, Pinka San and Geisha were led in leash by the bride on the march to the altar. Afterward they had places at the wedding banquet with the mere human guests.

It is the fact of their oriental lineage that got the animals their high place at the wedding. They are from the mikado's own kennels, having been brought over by a friend of Mrs. Schley-Bowen. In the plan to give the unusual wedding a distinctly Japanese savor, in honor of the first meeting of the bride and bridegroom, the dogs were honored and bridesmaids dispensed with.

FARMERS START A STORE.

Think That the Best Method to Reduce the Cost of Living.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative union, at Medical Lake, Wash., has formed a consumers' company, bought a store stocked with groceries, provisions and farm implements and supplied each of its hundred members with a key to the establishment, the doors of which are open to the public. There are no clerks, cashiers or storekeepers; no goods are displayed in the windows; neither are there any handbills and catchy advertisements to tempt the housewife.

The store is an experiment to reduce the cost of living. Officers of the organization believe that it is as natural for a man to be honest as it is for a babe to breathe, and it is proposed to demonstrate the truth of the theory by giving each member access to the stock of unguarded provisions.

Bathtub Trust Inquiry Will Be Moved West.

COMES UP IN THE WINDY CITY

Hearing Will Be Continued in the Federal Court in Chicago—From There It Will Be Moved to Cleveland and Later to St. Paul—Violation of the Anti-Trust Laws Alleged.

Pittsburg, Nov. 4.—After four days of sharp questioning into the affairs, agreements and operations of the alleged combination of enamelled ironware companies, called the "bathtub trust," Edwin L. Wayman was finally excused by the government, where special attorneys are conducting an investigation into an alleged violation of the anti-trust laws. Wayman made further explanations of contracts by which jobbers were licensed to sell the goods of the sixteen defendants in the present action.

Correspondence between Wayman, as commissioner for the alleged combination, and the Western Supply company of St. Paul was introduced to show that Wayman insisted on the firm selling only the goods of the firms in the combination.

While Wayman is the first witness to be examined in the case, it developed that he was not a witness of the government but for the defendants.

Identified Correspondence.

George H. Bailey of the Bailey Parrell Manufacturing company of this city followed Wayman. He identified correspondence with the Day Ward company of Warren, O., through which the latter firm refused to sell to Bailey's firm unless it signed the jobbers' agreement.

John A. Kelley, secretary of the Iron City Sanitary Manufacturing company of Pittsburg, whose firm did not go into the combination, identified the bluebook of jobbers, and told of Wayman's conversations with him about signing the agreement. Kelley also told of several meetings, at one of which, March 29, at the Hotel Astor, New York city, several of the manufacturers raised objections to the agreement on the ground that it was illegal.

The government attorneys and officers conducting the investigation left for Chicago, where the hearing will be taken up in the federal court. From Chicago the hearing will be moved to Cleveland and later to St. Paul, Wayman will be cross-examined in Pittsburg later.

DESIRE TO BE DEFEATED

Opposing Nominees for Office Work for Each Other's Election.

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 4.—"Any party that didn't have any more sense than to nominate me for the position of justice ought to see elected a man like Joseph Zehner, even though he is a Democrat."

That is the kind of a stump speech Isaiah Duddleston, Republican candidate for justice of the peace in Delaware township, this county, has been making.

He has been working hard for the election of his opponent, Joseph Zehner, who has been working just as hard to try to elect the Republican candidate. The campaign has become so warm that both have been indulging in personalities—each decrying his own abilities and lauding his opponent. The campaign is no joke which affords humor for the entire county, as the office pays little and would interfere with the business interests of the candidates.

COMES UP FOR ARGUMENT

Passenger Rate Case in Federal Court in South Dakota.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 4.—Sioux Falls will today be the scene of arguments in the case instituted in the federal court, involving the reduction of passenger fares in South Dakota from 3 to 2 cents a mile. At the time the various railroads in interest secured an injunction restraining the state board of railroad commissioners from putting the reduced rate into effect. J. Howard Gates was appointed master in equity to take the testimony and hear the arguments.

The work of taking the testimony was finished in Chicago some weeks ago. It is understood that Samuel A. Linde of Chicago, counsel for the various railroads, will make the argument against the proposed reduction.

The arguments in behalf of the state and in defense of the proposed reduction will be made by S. W. Clark, attorney general of South Dakota, and P. W. Deugherty, assistant attorney general.

Dr. Joseph and Mrs. Nicholson have returned to Brainerd from Ogema, Wis., and the genial doctor is himself again and will be at his post at the Northwestern hospital, the institution which he founded and which has been conducted by his brother, Dr. Elmer Nicholson, in his absence. Both doctors are again associated and will both labor to maintain and increase the high standing of their sanitarium and hospital.

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY

Sketch of Conductor of this Great Orchestra Which Appears in Brainerd Nov. 17

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give a concert in Brainerd under the auspices of the Ladies Musical club, appearing at the opera house on the evening of November 17th. A short sketch of the leader of this organization follows:

Emil Oberhoffer, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, is an exceedingly interesting and in many ways a unique figure in the broad and attractive musical field of this country. He was born near Munich, Bavaria, his father being a well known musical director. He became a resident of Minneapolis about fifteen years ago and at once, by virtue of his forceful talents and intelligence, took a prominent place among the musicians of the city. As leader of the Apollo club and the Philharmonic club his rare endowments as a director were recognized, and when he took the conductor's desk of the new symphony orchestra it was realized that he was not only a musical director of unusual qualifications, but that he possessed, in rare combination, the other characteristics necessary to build up so complicated and delicate a mechanism as that of a good orchestra, and to create public interest, confidence and enthusiasm. These Mr. Oberhoffer established by unexcelled energy, persistence and determination. His record of artistic industry is unblemished by the slightest touch of sensationalism, though the results he has attained have been in a way sensational.

The members of the orchestra over whom he exercises a rigid discipline, are all devoted to him, for they recognize that his control is based upon his one ambition; that of obtaining from his many voiced instrument the most perfect results. He thus possesses their sympathy as well as their obedience, two of the most important of the innumerable details in the successful management of an orchestra.

It seems now that there are no musical heights to which the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra may not reach. It has a young, ardent and accomplished conductor, an artistic and devoted personnel and the enthusiastic and affectionate support of a city that is already recognized as the musical center of the Northwest.

PASSENGER SERVICE NOV. 15

On that Date the Soo Line Will Inaugurate Service to Cuyuna and Range

On November 15th the energetic Soo line will inaugurate its Cuyuna range passenger service as mentioned by the Duluth Herald: ("W. L. Martin, vice president and train manager of the Soo, and G. R. Huntington, general manager, made an inspection trip over the local terminals of the Soo yesterday, accompanied by several Duluth business men and Twin City visitors. They went to the Cuyuna range on a special train for a final inspection before opening the new line on Nov. 15.

"Passenger service between Duluth and the Cuyuna iron range will be started according to present indications, in the middle of the present month. A daily train will be operated, leaving the range about 7 o'clock in the morning and arriving in Duluth shortly before noon. It will leave here in the afternoon for Cuyuna, arriving early in the evening."

Judge Fleming Squelches J. Henry Long Once More

Now that Mr. Long has crawled and admitted that he did not know what he was talking about, and especially as he admits that I had nothing to do with the matters which he charges now against others, I can only say that I am sorry to see a brother attorney so completely humiliated as he is. If he had had informed himself in regard to these mineral reserve taxes before rushing into print, it would have saved him from his present standing in the eyes of the public. He is old enough to know that it is always better to tell the truth. But even now he is not fair. The county attorney is not required to spy around and watch over the other county officers. I can imagine how far J. Henry Long would get if he were to undertake it. He might get past Mr. Smart and possibly Mr. Johnston, but when he got to nosing around Sam Adair's or Mr. Trommald's offices, he would find himself out on the sidewalk where he would belong.

Again, he would make us believe that certain taxes have been lost through the mistakes of somebody; but it is not so. All that is necessary is to go over it again—correct the mistakes. The state is not quite so foolish as to have its laws so that taxes can be paid by a mistake. To be sure a tax title may be bad on such account, but the tax itself simply remains unpaid. He says the law is plain. If it is the attorney general will no doubt thank Mr. Long to show him what the law is—that is, whether it is constitutional or not.

After his admission that he did not mean me and that I was not county attorney when these things were done, he then proceeds to make another charge against me. I will let Prof. J. A. Wilson say whether Mr. Long is telling the truth as to my appearance at the county teachers convention. Here is Mr. Wilson's answer to that charge:

"In justice to Judge Fleming, I feel that it is my duty to say, that the teacher's association did NOT call Mr. Fleming before them to explain the truancy law, nor for any other purpose, nor at all. Mr. Fleming did NOT become vexed and did NOT say he hoped they would have another county attorney. Both of these statements, made by Mr. Long in the Daily Dispatch, are false in every particular. I asked Mr. Fleming myself to come over and talk to the convention as I had done many times before. I did not know what he was going to talk about, nor did any of the members of the convention. He explained the truancy law and urged its enforcement in a fair and gentlemanly manner. That is all. How Mr. Long dare to make such statements in face of over two hundred people who know that he is not telling the truth, I cannot understand. J. A. WILSON, County Supt. of Schools."

Now, Mr. Reader, what do you think of such a man? I did not begin this newspaper controversy; but in all fairness, can you blame me for exposing this man's falsehoods? W. A. FLEMING.

CONG. STEENERSON SPOKE LAST NIGHT

Covering National and State Politics and Praising Taft and Eberhart

JOHN P. GARDNER ALSO SPOKE

Eulogized Gov. Eberhart and Work
He Has Done—Explained
County Option

A good audience was assembled at the opera house last night to hear the Hon. Halvor Steenerson, of Crookston, the congressman from the ninth district. When the curtain arose it disclosed the stage filled with prominent members of the republican party of this city. The Brainerd band played several selections and was followed by John P. Gardner, of St. Paul, who favored the audience with a vocal selection.

County Attorney W. A. Fleming then appropriately introduced the first speaker, Mr. Gardner, who in the course of his remarks said:

Governor Eberhart is the candidate of the people of this state because they have learned to love and trust him on account of his many manly qualities, because of the principles he advocates and stands for, because they have recognized in him an executive of splendid ability, having given to the state since his incumbency of the office a little over a year ago a clean, honest and business like administration. The people have recognized in him a man of sterling character, a man who has done things, a man of accomplishment. His record stands without a flaw. He has been absolutely sincere in the administration of the affairs of this state. His first utterance after taking the oath of office was that he would endeavor to the utmost of his ability to continue the policies of the late lamented Governor John A. Johnson. The governor has kept his promise, he has made good.

To Governor Eberhart is due in a very large measure the success of the State Development and Conservation congress of last March. He lost no opportunity to advance the best interests of the state through a wide range of speaking engagements at home and abroad. During his short incumbency in office he has addressed some of the most notable gatherings in the country such as the convention of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association at Winona, the National Rivers and Harbors congress at Washington, D. C., the Deep Waterways Convention at New Orleans, the National Farm Land Congress at Chicago, the National Convention of Advertising Men at Omaha and many others. "The state of Minnesota received an immense amount of advertising through these addresses exploiting the agricultural, commercial and natural advantages of our state. He stands pledged to a business administration of his office. During the switchmen's strike the governor strived to bring the representatives of both factions together for the purpose of settling the strike. He caused to be reorganized the state board of arbitration for the purpose of trying to settle this strike. In the matter of appointments he has selected men on the ground of character and fitness.

The true test of a man's greatness is his capacity to always be equal to the occasion which confronts him and judged by that standard Governor Eberhart is beyond criticism. He is in accord with the people on all great public questions. He is a man that is easily approached and will work as hard and as conscientiously for the interest of the laborer as he would for the merchant prince. He is a governor of the people.

"The question of county option is one of the principal issues of the campaign. Governor Eberhart has stated his position fairly and squarely when he says, "it is purely a legislative matter and should be left to that body as the direct representatives of the people," and if a majority of the people of the state want a county option law it is up to them to send to the state legislature representatives that will pledge themselves to that cause." The governor has stated he would sign such a law if it comes to him passed by the legislature. The anti-saloon league is back of the agitation for county option. State wide prohibition is their aim. Seaborn Wright declared, "Get county option and prohibition will naturally follow." County option, according to the leaders of the anti-saloon league means prohibition by counties.

The anti-saloon league uses a set form for a state law and fights against any amendment however trivial. This law is really no option at all. It gives prohibitionists the right to vote the villages of any county "dry," and at the same time to prevent the voters of a county from voting license into any village or town. In short, the farmer's vote is counted when he votes "dry" but is not counted when he votes "wet." Under such a law the voters of a county can vote the saloons out but they cannot vote them in.

Section eight shows the "wood-chuck." Under this section where the voters of a county declare for a license policy the villages are still given the right to vote upon the question of license or no license. But if the voters of a county vote for a no license then no such right is given and the village becomes "dry" no matter what the sentiment of the village may be up on this question. There is, therefore, no option or choice except to the "dry" voter who is given the right to force prohibition upon his neighbor, while it gives no right or power to the voter who may prefer a license policy.

If the resident of a rural community is to be permitted to decide by his vote what policy the village must pursue on the question of granting liquor licenses then by the same token of right the rural resident may be permitted to decide whether the village is to have sidewalks or pavements, electric lights or water works.

In conclusion Mr. Chairman and gentlemen I want to urge upon you the necessity of sending to the state legislature this coming session such men as you know will best serve your interests. It is not necessary for me to tell you who they are, you know that, if you don't you ought to and see it also that who ever you send there that you are satisfied they will support and vote for the election of that prosperous statesman and scholar, that great representative of the common people, the Hon. Moses E. Clapp for United States state senator.

The Hon. Halvor Steenerson was introduced by County Attorney W. A. Fleming and the congressman's appearance was the signal for a burst of applause. Mr. Steenerson is a most deliberate speaker, choice in his language and impressive in his delivery. He first took up national matters and in the course of his remarks said:

When there are issues there must necessarily be political parties, as the questions divide the parties. Every country ruled by the will of the people has political parties. It is destructive of free institutions to have no party. In the political as well as the religious world there has always been a battle of ideas. In no country in the world has party organization arrived at so perfect a state as in this country. Great Britain today has reached the same stage in party development. There two parties rule, the conservative and the liberal. The party system has been in vogue in this country ever since the constitution was established and even before.

fore. The Whigs were the parents of the two leading parties of today.

The tariff has always been an issue between the parties. The reasons advanced by Hamilton for a protective tariff then are applicable now. Broadly speaking there are two questions before both parties, the tariff and the regulation of monopolies or trusts. It is the minority's duty and privilege to criticize this majority.

The criticism of the socialists he termed destructive. They were birds of ill omen, saying the whole system of government was wrong. Honest criticism, however, is better than lavish flattery. That husband develops best who has the truth told to him occasionally by his wife. The husband who is continually praised imagines himself ready to fly to paradise. There are some good men and some bad men in the republican party, which some people wish to name respectively progressives and standpatters. But that is as much of a sophistry as the idea that all that is good in the republican party is of democratic origin.

He told how he was instrumental in securing the commission to investigate the tariff. As there are 4,000 items in the bill it takes a technical education to find the proper rates. He explained the grounds taken by the republican party on the tariff question. Those who desired revision had been termed revisionists or progressives. Those who were satisfied with it were the regulars or standpatters.

He took up Cannonism. When Reed was retired and a democrat succeeded him, the democrats adopted the very republican rules they had denounced. He said the demand of the people for meat inspection and pure food inspection required additional appropriations to meet these new expenses.

Taft has done more for economy than any other president in the last fifty years. His first year in office was signalized by a reduction in the total appropriations. He mentioned how the postal deficit had been reduced from 17 to 5 million.

Coming to state affairs he said that no state in the union can be so justly proud of its institutions as Minnesota. In the control of public utility corporations its laws are more complete than those of any other state. It is the first state to establish a railway commission with authority over rates. It abolished rebates and passes. Minnesota is looked upon as one of the most progressive states in the union. That man Smith is said to control the governor and the legislature. The same laws we were so proud of under Johnson were made when Smith was alleged to be running the legislature.

The political, flour, lumber and wheat rings center in Minneapolis, the home of candidate for governor Gray. Minneapolis wishes to reform the country. It should remove the beam from its own eye before attempting to remove the mote from the country districts.

Lind seemed to own and control Gray for he trotted him about when he needed him. John Lind was the chief lobbyist for the club bill, a bill providing for the sale of liquor to club members, a law favoring the rich and discriminating against the poor. Some people were content with their own rotten conditions in St. Paul and Minneapolis but wished to reform the country districts. They could talk county option which would not touch them but would affect the country districts.

Gray, in addressing a recent meeting said apologetically: "John Lind would not run, so they put me forward as being something equally as good." It reminded him of the man about to be married. "Will you have this woman as your wedded wife?" asked the minister. "No," answered the prospective bridegroom. "I'd rather have her sister." He had never heard of James Gray, except as being mayor of Minneapolis and that he was succeeded by Doc Ames. All the timber stealing was planned in Minneapolis. The elevator combine of Minneapolis robbed the farmers of five cents a bushel on their wheat. That combine originated in Minneapolis.

He dropped Mr. Gray and then devoted himself to Governor Eberhart, tracing his life from the farm, through privation and toil, to his present station as governor. Eberhart was enlisted in the cause of development and conservation. He favored large appropriations for the development of northern Minnesota. He favored reappointment, the extensive advertising of the state, the bringing of new people and putting them on the farms, of increasing the population and thus, in a measure, reducing taxation.

In conclusion Mr. Steenerson complimented Brainerd as destined to be one of the greatest cities of northern Minnesota. Brainerd was hardly started on its great career. The party that will help you in conservation and development, that will build up Crow Wing county, is the republican candidate for governor and a republican legislature. Elect Eberhart. Frequent applause greeted his remarks.

and Hunters and Seize Many Valuable Furs

Game Wardens W. H. Onstine and James M. Quinn put in a busy week. In the vicinity of Vineland near Mille Lacs lake they caught Mr. Sherman trapping out of season and seized 16 rat skins. Sherman was brought before Justice of the Peace J. T. Chestley and fined $25 and costs. The furs confiscated were sent the state game and fish commission at St. Paul.

The next offender caught was L. Steinberg, a trapper, who was brought before Justice of the Peace J. J. Crowell, of Garrison, and fined $25 and costs for trapping out of season. The furs confiscated consisted of 193 rat skins, six mink and one coon skin. The furs were sent the state game and fish commission at St. Paul.

Jesse Evans, of Beltrami county, was caught hunting in Crow Wing county and as he had no license the two game wardens brought him before Justice of the Peace George Wakeman, of Roosevelt township who fined him $50 or 30 days in jail. Constable Dewing will bring him to Brainerd, the county seat, in case the fine is not paid. The game wardens had other trappers and hunters under surveillance, but these are not mentioned in the results shown above. It was a strenuous week's work.

COUNTY OPTION'S CLAIMS

There is vigorous and persistent effort on the part of those opposed to county option to prejudice the public mind against it by representing that it is not a square proposition but intended to deceive that its real purpose is state prohibition; while by no possibility could county option effect state prohibition unless the people who do the voting should want prohibition. The truth is that county option demands recognition for two or three fundamental reasons; no one of which is related to state-wide prohibition. First, the county is the unit for purposes of taxation, as it is also the unit of county expense for maintenance of jails and courts. If a man is taxed for the expenses of maintaining county and district courts, of jails and poor farms, he should also have a recognized right in regulating or eliminating any trade that makes these things necessary. But one would not think so to hear the friend of the saloons tell his tale of woe.

One would think on the contrary that the county optionist is a conspirator against personal liberty, a tyrant and oppressor. The real case is that county option aims only at restoring to the voters of the county the right conferred by the constitution; that one shall have a voice in expenditures for which one is taxed, and which was taken from him by the liquor interests in establishing our present system of local option; the reason being plainly evident; that it is easier to control votes in towns than in counties, the towns being subject to the bribery of the license, and the "trade" draft argument—which is mostly insult to the farmer. One thing however, shows plainly in this fight for county option and that is that the friends and defenders of the saloon are afraid to let the people of the county get a chance to vote on it. —Cannon Falls Beacon.

MERCHANT TAILORS CHICAGO

We can give you the superior workmanship of these famous tailors in your own selection from 500 different Woolens and over two dozen styles at about the price of ready-to-wear clothing. And the clothes will look as if they were made for you alone.

Clothcraft Stands the Acid Test

YOU always find in your Clothcraft suit a regularly signed, legal, binding guaranty that the suit is pure wool.

That guaranty could not be given if the makers and we ourselves did not absolutely know the goods to be pure wool.

This is the test: Pure wool boiled in caustic potash completely dissolves. If there is any cotton in the mixture, it remains.

Every piece of cloth coming from the mills must be able to stand this test before it is accepted for Clothcraft.

Wool lasts. Wool keeps its stylish shape and color. When you can have all-wool guaranteed at $10 to $25 it is foolish to take anything less. Then come in today and pick out your Clothcraft suit or overcoat.
